Honor Their Sacrifice

Pave The Way To A Sacred Space

We are each called upon to serve others in our lives. For some, this duty to the greater good has meant military service both here and around the world. Young men and women from across Kentucky still step up to meet this challenge again and again. They know well the risks that come with this service. Yet, they still take that sacred vow to protect us from enemies foreign and domestic. They serve to protect us in a dangerous world.

This service sometimes comes at a terrible cost. It can leave family and friends in heartache and parents in tears. Today we are asking you to step up to the challenge. Let this be your time to serve and express your kinship with those who have given the ultimate sacrifice.

Help us create a sacred space for the families and comrades to remember and a classroom for generations to come to learn the most important lessons of Kentucky and American history.
