Based on the latest book in our award-winning Tools series:
Tools for Thoughtful Assessment

Rick Stiggins and other assessment experts have taught us about the power of “assessment for learning”—assessment that advances student learning rather than simply evaluating it. In order to make this shift to assessment for learning, teachers need practical, ready-to-use assessment techniques proven to raise student achievement.

This two-day institute features Dr. Harvey Silver, author of the best-selling The Strategic Teacher and a leader in research-based instructional tools and strategies. Dr. Silver will present a variety of these practical, classroom-tested tools and techniques that teachers can use right away to address the critical components of assessment.

Participants will learn

- A variety of tools to help make the move from traditional evaluation to assessment for learning.
- How to use these tools to assess before, during, and at the end of instruction.
- How to adapt these tools to meet specific assessment and instructional goals, such as developing clear learning targets, teaching students how to produce quality work, and helping students monitor their own learning.
