In 2010, the Kentucky Board of Education adopted the standards, which represent the minimum of what K-12 public school students should know and be able to do at each grade level. The standards have been taught in Kentucky classrooms since the 2011-12 school year.

The Kentucky Core Academic Standards in English/language arts and mathematics were the result of Senate Bill 1 (2009) that mandated new, more rigorous academic standards in all content areas.
