Agenda Item: Delaying Impact Kentucky Survey Results

Presenter: Rob Akers, Kentucky Department of Education

Summary of Discussion:

Rob Akers provided information about the Impact Kentucky survey and how the results might look. Some differences were noted between this new platform and TellKY. March 23rd was the original roll out date for results to districts, but was delayed due to schools operating differently during the pandemic.

Feedback:

Suggestion was made for schools and districts to have data, soon, to plan for professional development days coming up in order to know where to focus. As far as public dissemination, it was suggested that schools and districts need the information, first, in order to develop a plan of action. An additional comment was made with the realization that the data would be from the “old way things were”, so how might schools and districts use the data for the “new normal”?

A tiered approach might be useful for planning purposes.

School leaders could have the autonomy to use the data when they receive it, or opt to focus on the new normal.

Maybe set some guidelines about choosing one area for goal setting and improvement, instead of trying to “fix” everything. Information could still be useful for planning for next year.

Another comment is that some teachers and administrators are at the breaking point at this time, so the data may not get the attention that it needs.

Follow-up Required:

None noted; Rob commented that he will share this feedback with the leadership team.
