Once upon a time there was a piece of wood. It was not an expensive piece of wood. Far from it. Just a common block of firewood, one of those thick, solid logs that are put on the fire in winter to make cold rooms cozy and warm.

I do not know how this really happened, yet the fact remains that one day this piece of wood found itself in the shop of an old carpenter. His real name was Mister Antonio, but everyone called him Mister Cherry, for the tip of his nose was so round and red and shiny that it looked like a ripe cherry.

As soon as he saw the piece of wood, Mister Cherry was filled with joy. Rubbing his hands together happily, he mumbled to himself:

"This has come in the nick of time. I shall use it to make the leg of a table."

He grasped the hatchet quickly to peel off the bark and shape the wood. But as he was about to give it the first blow, he stood still with arm uplifted, for he had heard a wee, little voice say in a pleading tone: "Please be careful! Do not hit me so hard!"

- Question 1 “Why was the carpenter called Mister Cherry?”

This is a Right There (RT) question because the words used in the question and answer are found in the same sentence in the text.

- Question 2 “Describe the piece of wood found in the carpenter's shop.”

This is a Think and Search (TS) question because the information for the answer comes from different places in the text.

- Question 3 “How could a block of wood make a cold room warm?”

This is an Author and Me (AM) question because clues in the text must be combined with background knowledge in order to answer the question.

- Question 4 “Do you think being a carpenter is an important job? Why or why not?”

This is an On My Own (MO) question because the description of the carpenter is not found in the text. You must draw on your own experience and knowledge to answer the question.
Handout 3
Passage for Practice

Tom has lived in Marysville his entire life. However, tomorrow, Tom and his family would be moving 200 miles away to Grand Rapids. Tom hated the idea of having to move. He would be leaving behind his best friend Ron, the baseball team he had played on for the last two years, and the big swing in his backyard where he liked to sit and think. And to make matters worse, he was moving on his birthday! Tom would be thirteen tomorrow. He was going to be a teenager! He wanted to spend the day with his friends, not watching his house being packed up and put on a truck. He thought that moving was a horrible way to spend his birthday. What about a party? What about spending the day with his friends? What about what he wanted? That was just the problem. No one ever asked Tom what he wanted.

QAR Part 1: Identifying Types of Questions

Scarborough Rope

Session Goal

Research

Session Objectives

By the end of this session, participants are expected to:

- Demonstrate the skill of identifying the four question types used in the QAR reading strategy;
- Develop a plan to teach the four types of questions used in the QAR strategy.

Research provides evidence that:

- Instructing students in using the reading comprehension strategy QAR during reading instruction can increase their reading comprehension of fiction and non-fiction texts, leading to increased test scores in reading.
- (Chamot, 1991)
QAR Question Types

We Do It

Identify QAR (We Do It)
- Review the four question types on Handout 3.
- Read the passage in Handout 3.
- Scan the passage for clues to the question type.
- Categorize the QAR question type (AT, QR, UT, UT).
- Check the facilitator guide to verify the question type.
- Clarify any incorrect responses.
- Repeat with the remaining questions.

Wrap Up

WRAP-UP
- QAR is a strategy students can use to increase reading comprehension of fiction and non-fiction text.
- QAR helps readers realize the connection between information in the text and their background knowledge.
