

SUMMER BOOST:

Reading and Mathematics Program

Is your district ready to feed students' minds during your Summer Food Service Program?

If so, your Summer Food Service Program Director or point of contact may apply for the Summer Boost: Reading and Mathematics Program. The program is designed to help districts provide a boost in reading and mathematics to fight summer learning loss.

How does the program work?

To be considered for participation in the Summer Boost Program, your district must complete an online application to confirm your interest. If selected to participate, your district will receive, at no cost:

- Books to give away and digital math games for students to play
- User-friendly training on how to use the materials to engage students and families
- Ideas to share with parents or caregivers to promote literacy and numeracy in everyday life
- An opportunity for a guest reader to visit your site(s) and read to students

Why apply to participate?

Summer meal programs play a critical role in ensuring hunger doesn't keep students from reaching their full potential. With the Summer Boost: Reading and Mathematics Program, your district will have the opportunity to feed children and provide supports for reading and mathematics throughout the summer.

Applications to participate must be submitted no later than March 28, 2025.
