UDL Engagement:

Welcoming Interests and Identities

Let's Review

Universal Design for Learning (UDL) is a way to present information in multiple formats and with high-interest options, allowing students to demonstrate their knowledge in a method of choice.

Three principles:

- Engagement;
- Representation; and
- Action and Expression.

Tap into Interests

Choice and Autonomy

Empower learners to take charge of their learning by allowing them to choose certain aspects of their educational experience.

Level of perceived challenge

Types of rewards or recognition

Practice of skills

Sequence or timing of subcomponents

Participation in designing activities or tasks

Personal goals

What reaches one student won't reach another; what excites one student won't excite another.

Optimize Relevance, Value and Authenticity

- Personalized, culturally relevant and ability-appropriate;
- Appropriate for racial, cultural, ethnic and gender differences;
- Authentic outcomes;
- Active participation, exploration and experimentation; and
- Personal response and self-reflection.

Nurture Joy and Play

- Nurture playfulness;
- Allow for exploration and discovery;
- Encourage joy through connections;
- Create space for pride; and
- Incorporate storytelling.

Address Bias, Threats and Distractions

Create an accepting and supportive classroom climate

Find a balance between predictability and novelty

- Charts, calendars, schedules, visible timers, cues, etc.;
- Class routines;
- Alerts and previews; and
- Options to maximize the unexpected.

Today my schedule will be:

 Arabic Class	<input type="checkbox"/>
 Reading	<input type="checkbox"/>
 Math Class	<input type="checkbox"/>
 Lunch Time	<input type="checkbox"/>
	<input type="checkbox"/>

Address Bias, Threats and Distractions

- Vary the level of sensory stimulation;
- Vary social demands; and
- Acknowledge negative experiences.
