

Face It: Recognizing and Reporting Child Abuse and Neglect

Developed by the Kosair Charities® Face It Movement, this course provides information free of charge from local experts around recognizing child physical, sexual, and emotional abuse and neglect, reporting suspected child abuse and neglect in Kentucky, and the appropriate documentation, how to respond to the child, and understanding the response of child protective services with information provided by the Department for Community Based Services. There are different videos for educators who are in elementary schools, middle and high schools, or those who work in more general educational settings.

Districts will determine the means for administering the required post-training assessment. It is the district's responsibility to confirm successful completion by staff members and to maintain accurate documentation of records. To distribute the assessment, schools may provide a hard-copy or input the assessment into electronic format.
